

I am Dawn Brunsdon

I am Warner Beach

I am the seaside village south of Amanzimtoti.
I am the breathtaking sunrise on the far horizon.
I am the treasures of shells collected on the water's edge.
I am the easy 30 minute drive to bustling Durban.
I am the protected tidal pool of Warner Beach.

I am Warner Beach Agent, Dawn Brunsdon.

Hello, I'm Dawn Brunsdon and I have been working for Pam Golding Properties since September 2011. I specialise in residential sales in the Greater Amanzimtoti area which includes Warner Beach, Athlone Park and Illovo Beach. When I am not doing that, I enjoy reading, crafting, mosaics, painting and relaxing with my family and friends. I take great pride in what I do and strive to do my very best for my company and for my clients. Get in touch and let's discuss how I can help you with your property requirements.

I have a passion for what I do, I love the challenge of matching buyers to their dream homes and when it all comes together I feel I have reached yet another milestone in my career and thrive on the satisfaction of a job well done! I enjoy the interaction with both buyers and sellers and I am always amazed at how every sale is different due to the diversity of clients I deal with. Whether I am dealing with a first time buyer who needs guidance and experience from day one, to the more seasoned buyers and sellers, that keep coming back into my life! I take each one and give my best service at all times.

I maintain relationships with them after sales and I am privileged to call the majority of them my friends years down the line. I firmly believe looking after both buyers and sellers interests throughout the entire sale and registration process. Whether it's downscaling or buying for holiday investment purposes, I treat all my clients with the same professional service. I have been in real estate on the Natal South Coast since 1996 when I relocated from Johannesburg and can honestly say I love my job!

"Excellent friendly service, we love the personal touch she carries throughout the entire buying process. Everything went so smoothly."
