

I am Alton Mushazhirwa

Hi, I am Alton, a property consultant for Pam Golding Properties. I specialise in residential sales in Willow Park, la Montagne, Meyerspark, Murrayfield, Silverton, Brumeria, and Lydiana.

My journey to becoming a Real Estate agent is quite a unique story. After 2 years training as a Meteorologist, I realised that was not a career for me, and pursued a career into finance. At the time, little did I know, this was bringing me one step closer to my dream. I found myself joining a financial institution in a start-up position of processing mortgage loan applications. My dream was taking shape. Over the past 24 years I shaped myself and built a fulfilling career with a Building Society ending as Regional Manager. Following on from this I ran my own company in the retail industry. While in this field I met diverse business associates and acquaintances. It was during this period I learnt invaluable lessons of respect. Due to a recession in the market, my family and I moved to South Africa, primarily to focus on my children's education. This brought the opportunity to follow my dream. I reflected back to my period with the building society processing mortgage loans, and the name Pam Golding Properties sprung to mind. Without hesitation, I found their nearest office to embrace my dream and here I am today. I can proudly say that my determination and focus has brought me to where I am today. My energy and enthusiasm for life has fulfilled my dream, but I would not have achieved this without being the respectful and courteous person I am. I value everyone who comes across my path in life, without my clients I would not be where I am today. With my combined experience in the corporate, financial and property industries I am able to provide my clients with expert advice when making their largest investment decision yet. I have earned the trust of my clients and colleagues with my ability to interact with a diverse community.

Outside of work my hobbies are jogging, as well occasionally assisting the local football team with their match preparation.
