

I am Leanne Jarvel

Hi, I am Leanne Jarvel, Goldclub agent, and I have been with Pam Golding Properties in Hilton since 2015.

A passion for property, the outdoors and people led to my career in real estate, which began when I was 27. With a master's degree in agriculture(horticulture) and with start-up commercial business experience, I chose to market lifestyle properties in the Natal Midlands, covering the area of Hilton to the Kamberg. Owning and developing my own smallholdings gave me first-hand experience allowing me to connect with buyers and sellers. My husband and I purchased our first property at the age of 22. The start of schooling for my son and daughter led to a move into the Hilton/Winterskloof area 15 years ago. I love where I live with my family and pets! I have a deep appreciation for the challenge and reward of building a home and developing a property. I have also completed a landscaping qualification, photographic and numerous real estate courses, including my NQF4.

I have a passion for Hilton and her surrounds, and so specialise in this area. It's a stunning area with much natural beauty offering peace, tranquillity and prolific bird and wild-life. It boasts the best of both worlds - lifestyle and amenities - a rarity to traditional urban living. Hilton attracts wonderful people who share similar values and aspirations. A place where children can be children, family life can be nurtured and individuals can prosper.

People know me as a no-nonsense agent who is sincere, professional, thorough and caring. You will only get complete honesty, commitment and reliability. I am passionate and knowledgeable about the areas I service and the ever-changing property market. I thoroughly enjoy engaging with buyers and sellers and understand that all generations need to be communicated with in various ways. I thrive on the challenge to match buyers to homes and to help and guide all parties through the process of buying and selling, all the while ensuring clear and consistent channels of communication. Medical challenges in my life have moulded me to be empathetic, motivated, resilient and to appreciate everything in life. I am hard working, attentive, observant and thrive on making a difference in people's lives. Feedback I receive from my clients is that I am not your typical real estate agent, having an unmatched eye for detail, extremely thorough, considerate and go beyond the extra mile.

I have a large portfolio of property listings, many of which are sole mandates, and I go out of my way to source properties should it be necessary. Whether you are interested in selling or buying, I will help you with your property requirements and strive to provide a top-quality professional service.

"Wonderful, wonderful news! You've done an amazing job. Massive THANK YOU!"
