I am Port Elizabeth

I am the laughing children on school sports fields

I am pink satin pumps on little ballerinas

I am the dogs frolicking in the rock pools at Schoenies

I am the smell of percolating coffee shared by family and friends

I am signposts along the roads to PE's beautiful places

I am Port Elizabeth agent, Angela Grant

Hi, I am Angela Grant and I'm a proud agent for Pam Golding Properties. I specialise in selling residential property in Port Elizabeth. My life has revolved around property in some form or another for the last 20 odd years, so I guess you could say real estate runs in my blood! I was born and bred in KwaZulu-Natal, Durban and moved to Port Elizabeth four years ago. I've fallen in love with the beautiful place that is the Eastern Cape and The Friendly City in particular. Like KZN, Port Elizabeth is on the move and I am grateful that I can play a meaningful role in its growth, one house at a time.

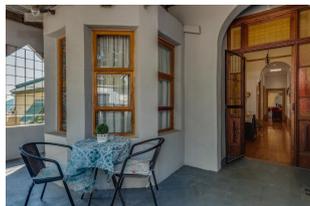

Unapologetically ethical, I have a hard working attitude that makes the most of every opportunity. My crazy red hair and laugh reflect my fun loving side and keep life real! I am also a passionate person who loves my family, country and property. When I'm not working, I love spending time with my children and husband enjoying the wonderful lifestyle on offer in Port Elizabeth. I understand how important a home is and that for most people as well as us it's more than just a house.

Our home is filled with dogs, birds and fish, two beautiful children and my husband, and it's a place where all are welcome. Having worked as a real estate agent and agency administrator in the 1990's, I was delighted when the opportunity arose two years ago in Port Elizabeth for me to return to real estate. My heart had never left the industry although I had a very successful career in IT Information Technology. Now to start 2017 where it all began way back when at Pam Golding is a real delight. Get in touch and let's discuss how I can help you with your property requirements.

"I'd like to thank you and Angela for the fantastic work given to us during the sale of our previous house and the purchase of our current house. With the sale of our house she was always available, made effort to get us a excellent price and kept us updated through the process. We are grateful for her help and would highly recommend her and PGP to anyone wishing to buy or sell."
