

I am Briggitta Baard

I am Swakopmund

I am the landmark, undulating dunes .
I am the memories for sale at the quaint bric-a-brac & curio shops.
I am the magnificent setting sun over the Atlantic.
I am the melting pot of many nationalities and cultures.
I am the well-worn wooden planks of the Jetty.

I am Swakopmund Agent, Briggitta Baard

Good day. I am Briggitta Baard, a proud agent of Pam Golding Properties in Swakopmund. I specialise in the sales of residential and commercial properties, which I have been doing for the past 5 years in Swakopmund. I am very family orientated, and most of my spare time is enjoyed with my husband and my daughter, when she is home from her studies in South Africa. I often go to Cape Town to spend time with my other daughter and two grandchildren.

I am a very honest, trustworthy person and pride myself by working in a very professional and ethical manner. My integrity is of the utmost importance to me. My aim is to find and assist my clients in their search for their dream home. My service extends to after the sale has been completed, I will go the extra mile to help and assist where I can.

I am originally from Port Elizabeth and moved to Cape Town where I studied Beauty Therapy at the Cape Technicon with the iconic Isa Carstens in 1976. I began my experience in selling property 11 years ago for Durbanville Real Estates, where I worked for 2 years. Since then I have found myself drawn to working closely with people during all of my professional ventures. I have experience in the hospitality and catering industry, co-managing a lodge in the North of Namibia with my husband for 3 years, after which we opened a coffee shop in Swakopmund.

I understand people's needs and quickly ascertain what people are looking for. I will always assist my clients where I can and offer an all-encompassing service, which does not stop even after they have purchased their home. I am very passionate about helping people find their dream home and always go the extra mile to help where I can. Finding the right property for the client and seeing their joy when they discover it is the right home for them, gives me such great satisfaction!

I make friends easily and have clients for life through offering a personable and professional service. I am passionate about the property industry and regard myself as an extremely loyal person, my integrity being of the utmost importance to me.

I hold my NEAB Estate Agents certificate, and even though I have over 7 years' experience in the industry, every sale feels as exhilarating as the first! It is an extremely rewarding achievement and I look forward to assisting you in fulfilling your property dreams.

"She was there, when one needed to ask a question but sensible enough to stand back from conversations, that was not for the agent's ears. From the beginning we had a good feeling about her ... she has a good understanding of what the client wants! After about a year she found our perfect location only through the understanding of what her client wants! "
