properties via Pam Golding was a very attractive lure and I decided to join them.

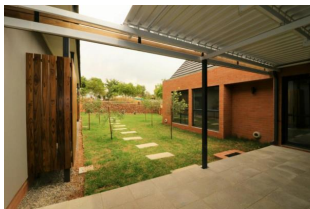

I am a very energetic and warm person who values professionalism and ethics highly. I take great pride in my work and strive for excellence. I am sensitive to other people's needs and provide a unique client-orientated service.

I am a well-qualified professional who loves working with people as is evident in my previous career as registered nurse and midwife. I did a bachelors' degree in nursing at the University of Pretoria after matric and fell in love with midwifery. I then completed a master's degree in advanced Midwifery and Neonatology.

I also enjoy various kinds of team sports like netball, hockey and soccer as well as reading novels on rainy days. The outdoors and beautiful environments attract me tremendously. I have a continual strong urge for adventure and being energetic and active.

This urge drives me to seek to continually expand my abilities and skills, therefore, after 13 years in the health care sector I needed a new challenge. The proposition of working with high quality people and
