

I am Cecile Loubser

Hi, I am Cecile and I love the Klein Karoo and Oudtshoorn. I was born and bred in the Karoo and I love the sound of thunder and the smell of the veld after a rain storm, the sound of rain on my sink roof when I lie in bed at night. I love the gorgeous sunsets and the veld flowers and blossoms in spring. The sound of cicadas in the heat of summer and the blue of the mountains far away... This is the place of my heart, the place where I belong. Get in touch and let's discuss how I can help you.

What makes me brilliant is my ability to put the right client in the right house. I enjoy walking the extra mile if it means that I will achieve the perfect match. As I have been an agent in Oudtshoorn for the last 13 years I know all the homes, their features and benefits. I understand people and their behaviour and love to work with different personalities. These two attributes combined makes for the perfect matchmaking ability. I see myself as a hardworking and energetic optimist who lives life to the fullest and I enjoy keeping busy. I enjoy finding solutions and challenges never deter me, they entice me. I am patient and believe that any obstacle can be overcome with the right mind-set. I honestly believe effective communication is vital for success in any environment. If expectations are clearly managed through effective communication one should rarely have any disagreements. I am extremely curious and inquisitive and try to keep my networks fresh. I am not shy to ask questions and get along with most people.

I love the Klein Karoo and I have the utmost respect for Pam Golding. This combination makes me a passionate and professional estate agent. I have achieved Gold Club status six times and have been awarded The Pam Golding Klein Karoo Agent of the Year seven times. In my spare time, I like to play tennis, board games, do things at home, read, knit, do needle work and fidget in my garden. I also like doing crossword puzzles, but my greatest passion is to travel in the bush, as well as abroad!

"With her help and guidance all problems were sorted out; painters sound, garden walls built, etc. Over the next few months she was a constant source of information, so important when moving to a new town and always so cheerful and friendly. We have remained good friends over 5 years now and we recommend a highly professional business woman."
